CLUB SWIZZLE EXTENDED UNTIL 15 MARCH

Studio, Sydney Opera House

Following rave reviews and packed houses Sydney Opera House today announced a month-long extension to Sydney's must-see summer show Club Swizzle. The season will now run until Sunday 15 March.

"New York City-based "drag king" Murray Hill is a masterful ringleader." Sydney Morning Herald

"It's a culture of innovation that makes such an enjoyable outing... It's fair to say that Swizzle does indeed sizzle." Daily Telegraph

"Sex, comedy and skill, served short and fast." Time Out

"The rowdy, boozy, bent atmosphere that made La Soirée a hit is still there... and still pretty irresistible." Time Out

"Club Swizzle adds sizzle to its clever schtick." –Sunday Telegraph

The Opera House Studio has been transformed into your next favourite night club where the most debaucherous souls in show business gather around a bar where legends are made. Club Swizzle is a delicious a melee of outrageous cabaret, gravity-defying acrobatics and infectious revelry, backed by a live band and with a repertoire as big as their bar tab.

From February 3 glamorous chanteuse Ali McGregor will join the Club Swizzle party. Ali traverses the worlds of opera and pop culture like no other. After five years as an award winning principal Soprano with Opera Australia she ran away to join the circus and travelled the world with La Soirée before creating her own cabaret-variety shows for Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Melbourne International Comedy Festival and Adelaide Cabaret Festival.
